Good morning NYSEDC members,

The Governor's office has released guidelines and business safety templates for industries allowed to begin reopening in phase one. As of Friday, May 15, select industries in regions of the state that have met seven public health metrics will be allowed to start reopening. Below is a list of industries allowed to open in these regions during phase one, along with their guidelines and business safety templates.

Business owners must read the "Detailed Guidelines" for their industries and provide their digital signature affirming they have read and understand the document.

The State has published a dashboard to track the public health data regions must meet to reopen here.
